Subject: Legal Notice regarding Dispute

Under the instructions and authority from my client Aarav Mehta, residing at wdewfd, Mobile: 8767919866, I hereby address you as follows:

That my client and you entered into a transaction/understanding, as described: My client, Mr. Aarav Mehta, purchased a purse from your business, Meesho. Upon delivery, it was discovered that the purse was torn. Despite my client's attempts to address this issue with your customer service department, no response or resolution has been provided. This lack of response is not only unprofessional but also a breach of the implied contract formed during the transaction. That my client fulfilled all obligations as agreed under the understanding/transaction. He made the payment for the purse in full and expected a product in good condition, as per the description and images provided on your platform.

That you were obligated to act as per the understanding but failed to do so. You were expected to deliver a product in good condition and provide customer service in case of any issues, which you have failed to do.

That despite repeated follow-ups, no satisfactory resolution was offered. My client has made numerous attempts to contact your customer service department, but to no avail.

That such failure indicates breach of trust. Your inability to address the issue and provide a resolution has led to a breach of trust and faith that my client had in your business.

That my client has suffered losses and inconvenience, as described: My client has been trying to contact your customer service department, which has resulted in a significant waste of his time and has caused him physical stress. This has also caused him mental agony and inconvenience.

That your conduct constitutes a legal wrong under applicable Indian laws, including but not limited to the Indian Contract Act, 1872. Your failure to provide a product in good condition and your lack of response to my client's complaints constitutes a breach of contract under Section 73 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872.

That my client hereby demands that the dispute be resolved immediately by providing a full

That my client hereby demands that the dispute be resolved immediately by providing a full refund for the damaged purse and an apology for the inconvenience caused.

That if you fail to act within 7 days from the receipt of this notice, legal proceedings (civil and/or criminal) will be initiated at your risk.

That you shall be liable for all litigation costs, damages, and consequences arising from your failure to comply.

That this legal notice serves as a final opportunity for resolution.

This legal notice is issued to you without prejudice to all other legal rights and remedies available to my client under the law.

Kindly treat this as a final and urgent notice.

For Aarav Mehta

Through his Legal Counsel,
(Advocate Shalini Tripathi)
