BY REGISTERED POST/EMAIL Date: June 23, 2025 To, Jane Smith djv Subject: Legal Notice Regarding Lender-Borrower Dispute – Immediate Action Required Under the instructions and authority from my client Isha Tripathi, residing at hdb, Mobile: +91 9876543210, I hereby address you as follows: 1. My client, Isha Tripathi, is a reputable individual residing at hdb. She is known for her integrity and commitment to her obligations. She has been involved in various financial transactions in her personal capacity, which have been conducted with utmost diligence and in accordance with the law. The present dispute arises out of a lender-borrower relationship between my client and you. 2. The issue at hand pertains to a loan transaction that took place between my client and you. The loan agreement was executed in good faith, with the understanding that you would repay the loan amount within the stipulated time period. The terms of the agreement were clear and unambiguous, leaving no room for any misinterpretation. 3. As per the agreed terms, my client lent you a substantial amount of money on the date of gfg. The loan was given in good faith, with the expectation of timely repayment. However, despite the lapse of the agreed repayment period, you have failed to repay the loan amount. 4. As per the loan agreement, you were obligated to repay the loan amount within the stipulated time. This obligation was not merely contractual but moral as well. You assured my client of your intention and ability to repay the loan within the agreed time. 5. Despite the clear terms of the agreement and your assurances, you have failed to repay the loan amount. This failure is not only a breach of the agreement but also a breach of the trust reposed in you by my client. 6. My client has made several attempts to resolve this issue amicably. She has reached out to you multiple times, reminding you of your obligations and requesting you to repay the loan. However, all her efforts have been in vain as you have not shown any intention to repay the loan. 7. Your conduct in this matter appears to be dishonest and malafide. You have taken advantage of my client's trust and goodwill and have intentionally defaulted on your obligations. This conduct is not only unethical but also illegal. 8. Due to your failure to repay the loan, my client has suffered significant financial loss. Additionally, she has been subjected to mental harassment and stress due to your non-compliance with the agreement and your disregard for her rights. 9. The legal basis for my client's claim lies in the Indian Contract Act, 1872. As per the Act, when a party to a contract fails to perform their obligations under the contract, the other party has the right to seek legal recourse. Your failure to repay the loan is a clear breach of the contract, giving my client the right to seek legal remedies. 10. My client demands that you immediately take steps to resolve right to seek legal remedies. For my client demands that you immediately take steps to resolve this issue. She expects you to honour your obligations under the agreement and repay the loan amount without any further delay. 11. If you fail to resolve this issue, my client will be compelled to initiate legal proceedings against you. She will seek all legal remedies available to her under the law, including the recovery of the loan amount, interest, and damages for the mental harassment suffered. 12. Please note that you will be held responsible for all costs and expenses incurred by my client in relation to this dispute, including legal fees and court costs. 13. This legal notice is issued to you without prejudice to all other legal rights and remedies available to my client under the law. Kindly treat this as a final and urgent notice. For Isha Tripathi Through her Legal Counsel, (Advocate Shalini Tripathi)
